MOVING YOUR HOME

with care and consideration

Moving home consists of packing and transporting often thousands of different objects, each of different value, shape and size, from one location to another.

Given the stress of selling, buying and renting homes, it's no wonder that people often give little time to thinking exactly what will or will not be moved to their new home.

Let The Moving Partnership take the stress out of your move...

The Moving Partnership provides European, International and UK removals at the most competitive rates. With our extensive knowledge of the industry and our partnerships with removal companies worldwide we can demand greatly reduced prices whilst maintaining the highest standards, thus cutting the cost of your house removal.

We compare a range of quotes free of charge, to provide you with the best removals deal to suit your individual requirements. Most of the removal firms we partner with are either members of the British Association of Removers or FAIM accredited ensuring a high quality, reliable removals service.

If you are moving home overseas or within the UK, we can assist you every step of the way. Just call 0845 0037335 for the latest prices or obtain a quote online by visiting www.movingpartnership.co.uk

a happy one

At The Moving Partnership we understand the need to offer an efficient and cost effective service whilst maintaining a personal touch.

Through our years of experience in the removal industry, we have developed our service to make the moving process run smoothly and expertly thus creating a successful moving experience.

For most, moving is a daunting prospect. That's why at The Moving Partnership your peace of mind comes first in everything we do – from start to finish.

"Such an effortless move, highly recommended"

B Johnson - Norwich to York

Whether you're moving just down the road, across the country or overseas, we can provide the total, professional solution. We have particular experience in managing moves involving delicate, high value items and, whether it's a home or a business, we will look after everything, taking care of your valued possessions and ensuring your move goes smoothly from the moment you get in touch with us.

We understand that every move is different and each customer needs an individual, tailored service. From the outset, one of our highly experienced personal liaison managers will co-ordinate the assigned team and work with you each step of the way, advising and taking care of every little detail. No move is too big or too small for us.

From assessing your needs and planning your move, to ensuring that you're happy in your new home or business premises, our people use their skill and knowledge to ensure the complete move is carried out in an efficient, friendly and courteous way.

"You took the hassle of our long haul family move"

DO IT YOURSELF

house removals

If you are carrying out or organising your own DIY removal service and require the necessary boxes, cartons and packaging materials Moving Partnership can assist you.

We can supply you with all the materials required for DIY removals – and will deliver them to your home within 48 hours.

Below is a list of some example products you may require when packing up and moving your belongings:

- Removal cartons (Various Sizes)
- Vinyl Tape
- Tissue Paper
- Wardrobe Cartons
- Export Wrap
- Sofa & Mattress bags

REMOVALS PACKING

and storage service

The Moving Partnership offers a full removals packing and storage service to ensure that your belongings arrive safely at your new address, whether that is in the UK or overseas.

If this service is taken out, our experienced, fully trained staff will turn up at your home prior to the moving date and carefully pack all of furniture and personal belongings into secure boxes ready for transporting.

There are many benefits of having your personal effects professionally packed. All removals staff are expertly trained to pack fragile items very safely so that they arrive in tact after hours on the road. They can also fill the boxes up efficiently to minimise the number required and the amount of space used in a container or removal van. Many insurance products give you a higher level of cover where goods have been packed by professionally trained staff.

REMOVALS INSURANCE

UK, European & International moves

Our recommended removals insurance will provide you with the following benefits:

- Peace of mind that your belongings are protected.
- You have direct right of recourse to insurers in the event of a complaint.
- This is an insurance-based product underwritten by an FSA authorised Firm.
- A leading UK insurer provides Insurance protection and financial security.
- Claims for loss of or damage to your property are recoverable from insurers rather than the remover.
- Policies are written with bespoke wording. This means that in respect of Deepsea removals you can be covered for claims arising from general average, sue and labour, war and strikes.
